

Tatiana Ebert

March 6, 1939 - July 21, 2019

Tatiana Ebert (née Filatoff) of Grenloch, NJ, passed away on July 21, 2019 at the age of eighty. She was the beloved wife of the late Richard T. Ebert, MD, loving mother of Ellen Sage (Adam) of Sarasota, FL, Christian Ebert (Anna) of Johns Island, SC, and Natasha Cottrell (Rodney) of Grenloch, NJ, and proud grandmother of Hannah Sage, Nicholas Cottrell, Alexander Cottrell, Andrew Ebert, and Tatiana Ebert.

Tatiana was born in Yugoslavia and immigrated to the United States at the age of twelve. She was a graduate of Bates College and a former elementary school teacher who loved nothing more than spending time with her grandchildren. She was an avid sports fan who cheered fervently for the Philadelphia Eagles. She enjoyed cooking and snuggling up with a good book, especially with her grandchildren.

Per her family's wishes, Tatiana's interment will be held privately. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to Action Against Hunger-USA, the International Rescue Committee, or Saint Vladimir Memorial Church in Jackson Township, NJ. Condolences may be shared at <http://www.earlefuneralhome.com>.

“ There is an empty space in my heart after the over 30 years Tatiana (Tania) has been a dear friend to me. We shared so much and in so many ways, rollicking fun and laughter as well as sad moments, seeing her children grow, our evenings with her dear husband and mother those mellow times. What a sistership we created. My heart will always and ever hold those loving times the rest of my life, enriched by her spirit. My heart goes out to Ellen, Christian, Natasha and all her cherished grandchildren. from Nancy Jane Doyle
